

Expatriate Insider 2018 Survey Reveals: Oman Is Losing Popularity among Expats

Quality of life and working life in Oman are rated less favorably in 2018, but expats still manage to settle in.

- Bahrain leads the list of the best destinations for expats, followed by Taiwan, Ecuador, Mexico, Singapore, Portugal, Costa Rica, Colombia, and Czechia.
- Kuwait (68th) and Saudi Arabia (67th) are rated the worst expat destinations worldwide, together with India, Brazil, Turkey, Egypt, Peru, Italy, Greece, and the United Kingdom.
- While Qatar (from 58th to 38th) has gained in popularity among expats, Oman (from 17th to 31st) and the UAE (from 26th to 40th) are losing ground.
- While Bahrain (12th) ranks fairly high for its digital infrastructure, all other Gulf States lag behind: the restricted access to online services such as social media is an issue throughout the region.

Munich, 6 September 2018 — The Gulf States are home to the best expat destination in the world, but also to some of the worst-rated ones: Bahrain ranks at the very top of the Expatriate Insider survey for the second year, thanks to great results for working abroad and the ease of settling in. It is followed — at a considerable distance — by Oman (31st), which has lost 14 ranks since last year (17th). Qatar (38th), which has moved up 20 ranks since 2017 (58th), as well as the UAE (40th), which has dropped 14 positions (26th), rank in the middle of the league table. At the bottom of the list, Saudi Arabia (67th) and Kuwait (68th) keep disappointing expats year after year, as the Expatriate Insider 2018 survey reveals. With more than 18,000 respondents living and working abroad, it is one of the most extensive expat studies, conducted annually by InterNations, the largest expat community worldwide. Apart from offering an in-depth analysis of life abroad, the survey ranks 68 countries by a variety of factors such as quality of life, working abroad, and settling in. While results across the Gulf States vary strongly, Bahrain is this year's winner, followed by Taiwan, Ecuador, Mexico, Singapore, Portugal, Costa Rica, Spain, Colombia, and Czechia.

Quality of Life Falls Rapidly in Oman

Oman has dropped from 17th place out of 65 countries in 2017 to 31st place out of 68 countries in the Expatriate Insider 2018 survey. Except for personal finances, the country has lost ground across all aspects of expat life, particularly in terms of quality of life and working abroad.

Oman has lost eleven places for the local quality of life: ranking 26th in 2017, it lands in 37th place this year. Expats are considerably less satisfied with their socializing and leisure options (from 33rd to 55th). While 64 percent were happy with this factor in 2017, only 58 percent feel the same in 2018. What is more, satisfaction with the transportation infrastructure is getting worse (from 38th to 48th): 54 percent rated it positively in 2017, compared to 47 percent this year.

LIFE IN THE GCC STATES
	Bahrain	KSA	Kuwait	Oman	Qatar	UAE
Overall Rank*	1	67	68	31	38	40
Quality of Life*	20	67	68	37	42	25
Ease of Settling In*	1	67	68	16	41	26
Working Abroad*	1	66	64	39	35	46
Family Life (out of 50 countries)	7	49	48	42	27	31
Personal Finance*	22	31	50	24	30	59
Cost of Living*	25	39	59	35	62	55

Additionally, the new digital life subcategory (46th out of 68 countries) has a negative impact on Oman's results for quality of life. More than one in five (21%) find it hard to get access to high-speed internet at home (vs. 16% globally), and another 21 percent are unhappy with the restricted access to online services such as social media (vs. 10% globally). However, on the bright side, 70 percent of expats feel very safe in Oman (vs. 43% globally), with the country coming in an above-average 22nd place for this factor. "Oman is extremely safe," an expat from India agrees.

Expats Bemoan Unfriendly Locals and Lacking Job Security

Exactly three in ten expats in Oman (30%) are unhappy with their career prospects (vs. 25% globally). Expats living in Oman also do not think their jobs are secure, ranking the country a low 56th out of 68 destinations for job security. In fact, only 51 percent of expats are happy with this factor, compared to 59 percent globally.

While Oman still ranks a good 16th out of 68 countries for the ease of settling in, it has actually lost ten places since 2017 (6th) in this regard, too. More than four in five expats (83%) describe the attitude of the local population towards foreign residents as friendly, which is three percent less than in 2017 (86%), but still 17 percentage points more than the global average in 2018 (66%). A British expat considers "the friendliness of the people" to be among the best things about life in Oman.

Top 3 Countries for Expats Are Great for Working Abroad and Easy to Settle In 2017's surprise winner Bahrain defends its first place, thanks to excellent results for working abroad and ease of settling in (1st for both). Seven in ten expats in Bahrain (70%) are happy with their career prospects (vs. 55% globally), and 81 percent find it easy to settle down in this country (vs. 59% globally). "I do not feel like an expat in Bahrain," says an Indian respondent. "I feel at home here". More than three-quarters of the expats living in runner-up Taiwan (76%) are satisfied with their job security (vs. 59% globally), with the destination ranking first in the world for this factor. Taiwan also offers the world's highest quality of life, and 77 percent of expats feel at home there (vs. 64% globally). Coming in third place, Ecuador is one the biggest winners of the Expatriate Insider 2018 survey, moving up 22 ranks since 2017 (25th out of 65). While less than half the expats in Ecuador (46%) were satisfied with their career prospects in 2017, 69 percent are happy now. Moreover, 76 percent find it easy to settle down in this Latin American country (vs. 59% globally).

Bottom 3 Countries for Expats Rank Low for Quality of Life

India (66th), Saudi Arabia (67th), and Kuwait (68th) do not only rank at the bottom of the overall league table, but they are also among the worst destinations in terms quality of life. Expats in India are dealing with the world's lowest quality of the environment: more than four in five (82%) are unhappy with this factor (vs. 19% globally). Over two in five (41%) even give it the worst possible rating, which is more than ten times the global average (4%). "I do not like the quality of the air, all the trash, and the pollution," an expat from the USA says. "It is very dirty all over the country". Around half the expats in Kuwait (52%) and Saudi Arabia (47%) are also unhappy with this factor. Moreover, the two Gulf States rank last and second to last for the ease of settling in. About half the expats in Kuwait (47%) and Saudi Arabia (51%) find it hard to get used to the local culture, compared to 21 percent globally.

InterNations Surpasses 3 Million Members

In April 2018 the world's largest expat community reached 3 million members, which equals a growth of 20 percent within the last twelve months. InterNations also expanded its international range to 420 cities around the world with 30 new communities.

Ten Moments That Made InterNations

Growing from a start-up to a global network has been an incredible journey. Here are the stand-out moments that got us to a decade of connecting global minds.

About the InterNations Expat Insider 2018 Survey

For its annual Expat Insider survey, InterNations asked more than 18,000 expatriates representing 178 nationalities and living in 187 countries or territories to provide information on various aspects of expat life, as well as their gender, age, and nationality. Participants were asked to rate up to 48 different aspects of life abroad on a scale of one to seven. The rating process emphasized the respondents' personal satisfaction with these aspects and considered both emotional topics as well as more factual aspects with equal weight. The respondents' ratings of the individual factors were then bundled in various combinations for a total of 17 subcategories, and their mean values were used to draw up six topical indices: Quality of Life, Ease of Settling In, Working Abroad, Family Life, Personal Finance, and Cost of Living Index. Except for the latter, all indices were further averaged in order to rank 68 expatriate destinations around the world. In 2018, the top 10 are Bahrain, Taiwan, Ecuador, Mexico, Singapore, Portugal, Costa Rica, Spain, Colombia, and Czechia.

For a country to be featured in the indices and consequently in the overall ranking, a sample size of at least 75 survey participants per country was necessary. The only exception to this is the Family Life Index, where a sample size of at least 40 respondents raising children abroad was required. In 2018, 68 and 50 countries respectively met these requirements. However, in most countries the sample size exceeded 100 participants.

About InterNations

With 3.2 million members in 420 cities around the world, InterNations (www.internations.org) is the largest global community and information site for people who live and work abroad.
